Insistent Demand That Law-makers Get Busy on New Legislation.

TARIFF HAS RIGHT-OF-WAY

Congressional Leaders Guessed Wrong When Tax Change Was Sidetracked.

Washington. — Public opinion is making itself felt in the national capital.

The impatience of the country over the failure of congress to get started on a program of tax revision has penetrated both the legislative and executive branches of the government.

Letters of complaint from prominent business men, most of them Republicans, have reached congress, and, while it is true that the average man outside of Washington has little conception of the immense amount of work involved in shaping a tariff bill, it is a fact that most of the criticism has been placed upon the preference given to consideration of the tariff ahead of the tax question.

Representative Mondell, Republican leader of the house, makes a point of the tremendous labor the ways and means committee has had before it in shaping a tariff bill, and argues that this same committee could obviously handle only one thing at a time. The ways and means committee unfortunately is charged with the task of making both the tariff and tax bills.

Congress Guessed Wrong

There is no other committee to which the revenue measure could have gone while the ways and means committee worked on the tariff. But the nub of the present situation is not that the ways and means committee has been wasting time, for it has been working hard both night and day on the tariff bill, but that it gave the right of way to the tariff at the expense of an alleged overwhelming opinion from the country in favor of that course. If, in other words, congress misread public opinion, it is really partly due to the failure of the country to assert its wishes unmistakably.

It now becomes apparent that there are serious differences of opinion on the tariff and that many of the advocates of a permanent tariff are in doubt as to whether any bill enacted at this session will not have to be changed in a month, as the result of constantly changing economic conditions throughout the world.

As for the tax question on the other hand, there is no division of opinion among the advocates of a change in the tax rate. Sentiment is perfectly unanimous. Rarely in recent years has a demand from the country, for action on a legislative matter, been so universally approved. Indeed, there are no party lines on the issue. Democrats must support any proposal for tax reduction along with Republicans. While the tariff, therefore, is important, there never has been any doubt among disinterested observers that the country would approve of prompt action on the tax question ahead of tariff revision.

Harding Worried

President Harding is frankly disturbed about the situation. He realizes that congress should have tackled the tax question first. He indicated as much when the problem was first submitted to him, but felt reluctant to insist upon his point of view. He now wishes he had put his foot down hard and compelled action on the revenue measure ahead of the tariff.

By United Press Leased Wire

Yonkers, N. Y.—Three year old Jay Ward Leeds, son of Florence Lawlor Leeds, co-respondent in the Stillman divorce action, may be put on the stand in an effort to identify James A. Stillman as the man he has been taught to regard as his father, according to present plans of Mrs. Stillman's attorneys.

John E. Mack, guardian for Guy Stillman, and John F. Brennan, chief counsel for Mrs. Stillman, were in conference here today planning the moves for the defense when the hearings are resumed in Poughkeepsie Wednesday. Mrs. Stillman was not present, being represented by her former secretary, Miss Stillman would be called.

It was believed that the stand as the first witness Wednesday and that following his examination the first of the fifty witnesses upon whom the defense has served subpoenas will be called.

Amundsen and the crew recently reached Alaska. Whalen is a small Siberian village about 200 miles from Nome.

STATE'S MONEY LOANED TO MEAT BARONS, CHARGE

Grand Jury Begins Investigation of Illinois $10,000,000 Scandal.

By United Press Leased Wire

Springfield, Ill.—Illinois $10,000,000 meat scandal was placed before the Sagamon county grand jury Monday.

In the grand jury room of the old court house where Abe Lincoln practiced law, evidence intended to show manipulation of huge sums of state funds for private gain, was unfolded under the direction of State's Attorney Fred Mortimer.

The investigation, resulting from bitter political feud between Governor Len Small and Atty. Gen. Edward Brundage, was designed to strike at some of the highest officials in the state government.

Edward Miller state treasurer, was the first witness called to testify before the grand jury.

Loans to Packers

Although Miller was nominated and elected while running on the same political faction's ticket as Governor Small, the disclosures of the treasurer are said to have brought about the investigation. Small was treasurer for two terms.

A safety deposit box which has been guarded night and day at a local bank was taken to the grand jury room.

Best information was that the box contained evidence showing Chicago packers were loaned $10,000,000 by the state. Only 2 per cent interest was said to have been obtained on the loan.

In this connection, prominent bankers of Kankakee, the home town of Governor Small, have been summoned to tell what they know of the transaction. These bankers were reported to have acted as intermediaries in obtaining the loan.

Money Is Returned

Miller is reported to have insisted on return of the money, or deposit of sufficient securities to cover the loan. The securities were reported to have been turned over to the treasurer last March, although the loan was made many years ago. They were turned over only after Miller promised exposure of the whole affair.

Alleged use of interests of state funds for personal gain by several former state treasurers was also to be probed by the grand jury.

Governor Small's investigation was started today "character assassins" who were prevented by him from "looting the state treasury" by veto of several appropriation bills, were back of the investigation.

BATTLE RAGES IN BELFAST TO HOUR OF TRUCE

DeValera and Aides Start for London to Meet British Premier.

Negotiations for permanent settlement of the centuries old Irish question will begin Thursday.

Premier Lloyd George asked Eamon De Valera to fix the date when he could start the conference in London, and the Irish leader Monday selected that date.

It was assumed that the slight delay was occasioned by De Valera's hope that in the interim he could reach an agreement with Sir James Craig, premier of Ulster, thereby presenting a united Irish front to the British government.

Rioting and violence continued in the north of Ireland up to the time the truce agreed upon Friday became effective at noon today.

There were sporadic outbursts of the rioting which began in Belfast on Saturday night and continued unabated until military intervention last night. A mail train was derailed and burned between Belfast and Londonderry.

Truce Is Declared

Dublin.—As the clocks of Dublin struck the hour of noon today the sound of their bells was drowned in the roar of ship sirens that welcomed the truce between the British forces and the Sinn Feiners.

Citizens gathered excitedly on the corners. Shortly after 12 o'clock, when the armistice became effective a group of unarmed black and tan strolled from their barracks. In a few moments they were fraternizing with the people, talking eagerly about the prospects of permanent peace.

The soldiers, long conspicuous figures in the streets, disappeared today. In the places of the sentries with fixed bayonets, peaceful looking policemen paced their beats.

Riots in Belfast

Belfast.—Violence and disorder continued in the north of Ireland up to the very hour the truce went into effect at noon Monday.

The morning mail train enroute from Belfast to Londonderry was derailed near Carrickmore, in Tyrone. The crew was held up and six cars burned.

The rioting in Belfast, which broke out Saturday night and continued until suppressed by the military last night, was renewed Monday morning. There were sporadic outbursts in various parts of the city which continued until nearly noon. In one melee a bread wagon was burned and its driver beaten.

In addition to the 14 persons killed and 165 injured, it was stated that 200 were rendered homeless by fires.

Start for London

Dublin.—The Sinn Fein peace delegation, headed by Eamon De Valera, will leave for London tomorrow. It was officially announced here this afternoon.

In addition to De Valera, the delegation will consist of Arthur Griffith and Messrs. Stark and Barton. The latter two are members of the Dail Eirann.

Foran who was given his liberty Saturday on bail of $7,500 refused to leave jail while his wife was being held. His release today is regarded as certain.

Badger Women Now Have All Rights Of Men

Governor Blaine Signs Bill Admitting Women to Service on Jury.

By United Press Leased Wire

Madison.—Wisconsin women entered the jury room today.

With the signature of Gov. John J. Blaine to the "women's rights" bill passed by the legislature last month, the ladies acquired all the rights of men, without some of the obligations.

Obstructions to the right of contract on the part of wives are removed from the present law.

Women may now be impanelled on jury venues, but may be excused on presentation of a woman's reason "because"—if they wish.

Wisconsin is now the first state in the union where women have equal rights with the men, according to members of the National Women's party.

The law provides that state officials and courts shall "construe the statutes where the masculine gender is employed to include the feminine gender," unless "such construction will deny to the males special protection which they enjoy for the general welfare."

A copy of the bill, and the quill pen with which Gov. Blaine signed the bill, is being sent to headquarters of the National Women's party in Washington "as mementoes of the first victory won by American women in their campaign for equal civil rights."

FARM PRODUCT PROFITEER IS TO GO ON RACK

Congressional Committees Begin Investigation of Price Gouging.

Washington.—Congress started on the trail of the farm products profiteer today when the agricultural inquiry was opened by a joint committee of the house and senate.

With sweeping authority to go into the highway and byways long the route from the farm to the dinner table, the committee has set out to find the men who are making big profits on foodstuffs. Wearing apparel will also be traced from the cotton fields and sheep ranges to the buyer's back.

Agriculture, members of the committee contend is in a state of distress that economic conditions do not justify. Somebody is getting a large part of the farmers share, paying unduly high prices, they declare.

The investigation will go into

1.—Cause of the present condition of agriculture

2.—Difference between prices of farm products paid to producer and ultimate cost to consumers

3.—Comparative conditions of industries other than agriculture, including relative prices of commodities

4.—Banking and financial resources and credits and marketing and transportation facilities

After taking testimony of representative of the various farm organizations, Chairman Anderson indicated today that the committee would make trips to the centers of distribution for first hand information

Washington.—William Howard Taft today took the oath of chief justice of the United States Supreme court achieving his said ambition of his life.

Members of Taft's family, relatives and nearly 200 friends crowded in to the office of Attorney General

Taft, with his right hand raised and his left hand placed upon an open bible repeated the oath of office of nearly 200 words.

When Daugherty handed Taft his commission, the new chief justice remarked:

"I have no reason to doubt the authenticity of this"

Justice Taft called on President Harding at the White House shortly after taking the oath of office

GOTHAM BOYS DEMAND SODAS FOR A NICKEL

New York.—Rumblings of the soda water revolution of the Bronx were heard in every drug store there today.

Groups of kids flocked about the shady drug store windows, making faces at the clerks inside and halting anyone who attempts to enter.

The "picket line" of the insurgents, protesting against the high price of ice cream soda, pleaded with customers to "lay off the 17 cent soda until we can get it for a nickel."

The boycotters bore placards of "We Want Five Cent Sodas" "Don't Pay High Prices—Make 'em Come Down."

The nickel soda movement was organized among children of the Bronx by Mrs. Anna Grant, who staged parade and protest meetings.

The organization believes that by boycotting the soda fountains they can force the proprietors to lower prices.

FRANCE CONSIDERS BID

Paris.—The French government has taken under advisement President Harding's proposal for a disarmament conference, it was learned here this afternoon.

Seiden Whitehouse, American charge d'affaires, called at the foreign office on instructions from Washington to ascertain the French attitude.

The offers advised Whitehouse that a reply would be made later. The indications are that France will make reservations—owing to the proximity of Germany—if the conference should consider land disarmament.

The premier said that "we also desire to maintain our friendship with Japan."

CROPS DESTROYED BY GRASSHOPPER HORDES

Grasshoppers have totally destroyed the oat crop in the Door county peninsula, according to Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Fish who autoed to a point 40 miles north of Sturgeon Bay Sunday. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ort.

"Grasshoppers are so thick in that country," said Mr. Fish, "that they fly out in the road in front of automobiles in an impenetrable cloud that looks like smoke. They have eaten the heads of the oats and only the straw remains. As far as I know, nothing has been done to combat them."

The party visited the Y. W. C. A. cherry pickers' camp. Of the 200 girls there, ten from Appleton have carried off the honors so far. Harvest of early cherries is just about finished, Mr. Fish declares and the late cherries will be ready for picking in a few days.

5 KILLED AS PLANE CRASHES INTO CROWD

Army Officials to Make Investigation of West Virginia Tragedy.

By United Press Leased Wire
Moundville, W. Va.—Army officials from Washington and Dayton, Ohio, flying fields, were enroute here today to conduct official investigation into the airplane accident yesterday which took a toll of five lives, injured more than a score and destroyed 16 automobiles.

The accident occurred when a giant Martin bombing plane taking off from the local field, plunged into a line of automobiles. One of the gasoline tanks of the bomber exploded, spreading fire over the cars. Their gasoline tanks began exploding. Most of the dead and injured were seated in the burning machines.

Lieut. M. C. MacIver and Lieut. E. H. Bunton, in charge of the planes were in the airplane. They escaped with slight hurts.

Rescue work among the frantic spectators was hampered by the exploding gasoline and the fire.

LUNG MOTOR IS IN USE BY FIRE DEPT.

Pulmotor Also Will Be Kept in Use, Giving City Double Emergency Protection.

Two resuscitating devices are now in possession of the fire department for emergency use following the purchase by the city of a lung motor. The new equipment has been delivered to station No. 1 and several members of the department have been trained in its use by a representative of the company selling the device.

"We intend to carry the lung motor with us when responding to fire alarms now that we have both a pulmotor and lung motor," said Chief George P. McGillan. "The device will be part of the hook and ladder equipment. We may have use for it and will not have to send for the instrument. The pulmotor will be left in the station so if a call comes for its use while we are out, the police department can respond. We also will be able to handle two pulmotor calls at one time if such a thing should happen."

Some features of the lung motor make it a valuable addition to the city's rescue equipment. It operates in such a way that the lungs do not collapse as with other devices. The lungs are kept filled with air all the time, accompanied by artificial respiration. In drowning cases mucoid substances that fill up the breathing passages may be removed to make the treatment effective quickly. The device is definitely adjustable according to the age or condition of the victim. It is possible to vary the treatment according to a definite plan for the proper method of reviving drowned or electrocuted persons, or for children strangled at birth.

Appleton In Early Days

B. C. WOLTER.
I came to Appleton in 1878 to teach in the Third ward school. I was born in Greenville, just seven miles from here. My parents did practically all of their trading at Neenah so I knew very little of the place before I came here. But from what little I did know I thought Appleton a nice place and I liked it better than Neenah, although most of my relatives and friends lived in that town.

Most of the buildings when I came to the city were made of wood. Dr. B. Douglas was at that time a leading dentist and Mr. Kahn owned a large general store. The Blood hotel where I stayed was the largest in the city. I can remember when that building burned down. We had a volunteer fire department and a hand pump and the men did their best to save the place. Instead of hydrants as we have now, there were large cisterns on convenient corners.

The streets were in very poor condition and the sidewalks were almost as bad. There were no cement walks then. In many places the walk consisted of logs hewn flat on one side. We had no electric street lights, although electric lights for other purposes were becoming practical. The corners were dimly lighted by oil lamps which blew out in a heavy wind.

FORMER KAUKAUNA MAN IS KILLED IN OREGON

J. Stillwell Vilas, formerly of Kaukauna and interested in the paper mills and Algoma Packing company there, was killed at his home near Medford, Ore., last week by the accidental discharge of a gun. The body was taken to Manitowoc for burial.

Mr. Vilas was born in Manitowoc Dec. 28, 1858, and spent his boyhood there. At one time his father, Joseph Vilas, served as mayor of that city. Later the family moved to Kaukauna and he and his father purchased interests in Kaukauna paper mills and in the Algoma packing plant. After the death of his father, 15 years ago, Mr. Vilas moved to Oregon and purchased a large fruit farm.

He is survived by his wife Mrs. Elizabeth Emer Vilas, formerly a Manitowoc girl, and three sons, Joseph, Jr., Ned, and George. The family accompanied the body to Manitowoc.

Mr. Vilas was a Mason, a member of the Wisconsin Consistory and at one time a trustee of the Masonic home at Dousman.

George Wolters of Racine, who is employed in Appleton, submitted to a serious operation at St. Elizabeth hospital Saturday morning.

APPLETON MAN HURT IN GASOLINE BLAST

Explosion While Filling Motor Truck Gas Tank Burns Leonard Heidger.

Burned about the face and hands when a gasoline tank caught fire recently, Leonard Heidger of 740 Harrison st., is recovering at Yates Memorial hospital, Berlin, Wis.

The explosion occurred while a motor truck tank was being filled with gasoline. The tank was being used in construction work on the Green Lake-Berlin road, where the accident occurred. Heat from the motor ignited vaporized gasoline as the tank was being filled and huge flames shot skyward. Heidger was caught in the burst of flame and although he was badly burned his condition was not serious.

A Standard Oil truck was transferring the gasoline into the other truck when the fire started. Herman Zietlow driver of the truck, prevented a serious explosion when he drove his machine from alongside the flaming highway machine. Workmen succeeded in smothering the flames by the use of sand and sandbags. Damage to the trucks was slight.

(Information to the Public in general)

Whereas we have been continuously probed with questions concerning the controversy between the carpenters and Association contractors, we wish to inform the public that the scale of wages of building crafts for this year already settled is as follows: Plumbers, $1.00 per hour. Tanners, 75c per hour. Painters, 75c per hour. Shop Carpenters, 60c to 75c per hour. Masons settled as far as wages are concerned, $1.00 per hour. Now is 80c per hour too much for outside carpenters who furnish their own tools and considering lost time throughout the year?

If you want carpenter work done, Telephone 1551 or 2081. All our carpenters are covered by compensation insurance. We will supply you with competent carpenters at 85c per hour.

A RECONSTRUCTION PROGRAM
The best news that has come out of Washington for some time is that the president and the leaders in congress have agreed upon a reconstruction program and that the whole power of the administration is to be put behind it. Every effort is to be made to lay the administrative and legislative foundation for a business revival within the next few months. The administrative leaders are said to realize that the country is getting impatient at the failure of the government to take any constructive action up to date and to be determined to meet the demand for the relief which is so badly needed. In this connection, House Leader Mondell, answering a charge of congressional inaction a few days ago, said: "This congress has made an unprecedented record for efficiency and well planned dispatch of business." As a humorist, Mr. Mondell is in a class by himself.

CONSERVING CHILD LIFE
New Zealand has long been noted for her laws designed to throw the protecting arm of the government around the children. She has led the world in legislation of this character. As the people of New Zealand have sowed so have they reaped. Figures just given out by the United States bureau of public health, show that the infant mortality rate in this enlightened British colony is the lowest in the world. It has been cut in half during the past 45 years. That is the kind of conservation worth boasting about. It is the kind of conservation that might well occupy the attention of official Washington to a far greater extent than it does now or ever has. If there is any explanation that really explains why America instead of New Zealand should not lead the world in conserving child life, we should like to have it.

DYING POOR
Wealth and poverty are relative terms. Andrew Carnegie's creed was that it was a disgrace for a man to die rich. The final appraisal of the great ironmaster's estate, which has just been computed, discloses that he left about $25,000,000. At first blush it would seem that Carnegie did not die up to his creed. But there is another side to the picture. During his lifetime he gave away upwards of $350,000,000. So that Carnegie gave away 93 per cent of his fortune and kept but seven per cent for his family. Twenty-five million dollars is something of a fortune even in these days of big figures, but compared with the $375,000,000 which it might have been, it seems fair to give Carnegie full credit for having squared his performance with his promise in the disposal of his wealth.

ENGLAND'S DEBT TO WASHINGTON
The monument in Trafalgar Square, the dedication of Sulgrave Manor house, and the other honors to George Washington, recently accomplished and still to come, in England are probably regarded by many Americans as mere incidents of the British policy of cultivating friendly relations with the United States. That there is much more involved is indicated by the notable declaration of Viscount Bryce, when lecturing in London the other day, that in our war of the Revolution "America saved British liberties." If this be true, the English people may well give Washington a place beside the greatest of their national leaders. Undoubtedly the effort of the British to extend their liberties and limit the powers of their monarchs was greatly forwarded by the success of the American revolution. Many Englishmen engaged in this struggle looked with sympathy upon the revolt of the American colonies, though they would have been better pleased if the liberties sought had been attained without separation from the British empire. That the American Revolution would advance reform in Great Britain itself was the view of many Englishmen at the time, and that it actually did so has been the view of English historians since. It was inevitable that American hatred of royal tyranny should have been extended during and after the war to the English people as a whole, and that there should have been a corresponding ill feeling toward Americans in England. Nevertheless the British are greatly indebted to Washington, a fact of which the recent and coming British tributes to his memory may be regarded as appropriate recognition.

PRESIDENTIAL TROUBLES
On reading the sharp criticism in some of the Republican newspapers, the fair-minded observer can hardly fail to be sorry for President Harding. Tax burdens have not been lifted, the country has not been made prosperous, according to schedule, and so the Boston Transcript complains bitterly of "The Republican failure." Now, to judge from the oratory during the campaign, Mr. Harding was not elected to lead but to follow—the senate. President Wilson, because he "led" was judged and condemned. The Transcript admits the great revolt against the Wilson method, but nevertheless contends that the people did not give his successor a "mandate" to "evacuate his responsibilities." The Transcript is offended to find that, though action is imperative, the president permits congress to let everything slide. Though there is no leadership in the house, it says, there is plenty of it in the senate, yet the president does not avail himself of it. But how in the world is the president to be a Wilson and follow the senate too?

As to retrenchment, the New York Herald, another Republican organ, demands that Mr. Harding use a "broadaxe," regardless of the feelings and the skins of the vote-culturing politicians of his party. The difficulty about this proposition is that Mr. Harding favors and is committed to the olive branch rather than the broad axe, the promotion of "harmony" between the conflicting elements of his party being his most pronounced policy. Moreover, he was elected, or was supposed to be elected, to become the political antithesis of President Wilson. Under the circumstances he can hardly be expected to do what is now demanded of him. Nor is it fair to blame him personally for conditions in no small part inevitable.

FILIPINO GOOD WILL
Speaking in Manila recently, W. Cameron Forbes, governor-general of the Philippines during the Taft administration, is reported to have said: "I have heard stories about wreck and ruin here and bad conditions since the Filipinos have been given more autonomy. These criticisms I find unjustified. I have seen that things have improved since I left the islands. One thing I am especially pleased with is the attitude of Filipinos toward Americans. That attitude today is one of friendly cordiality. I am obliged to acknowledge that was not wholly the case when I left the islands. Americans were not so popular with the Filipinos at that time. Frankly I give credit to the past administration for this feeling of harmony which is fundamental in the relations between Americans and Filipinos."

This would seem to dispose of the charge that ruinous conditions followed the enlarged powers of self-government granted by congress and put into operation by Governor-General Harrison—alleged conditions which Mr. Forbes was sent with General Wood to investigate. Judging from the above, the change was for the better and the general conditions are improved. Mr. Forbes pointedly added that if the actual evidences of maladministration proved the incapacity of the Filipinos for self-government, we of America must stand convicted also. "For the same defects exist in the islands as in the United States." Evidently Mr. Forbes is first of all an honest man.

AUTOBOYOGRAPHY
Chapter 16—Aw, Mother!
It is too bad that a boy's earliest years are so largely passed under the personal influence of his mother alone, while he sees comparatively little of his father. This may be all right for mere children, but a boy needs his dad more, to instill into him some manly principles which even the finest of mothers just can't give. Then, too, it would be a fine thing for a boy's father if he had to be about the house more through the day, watching over and caring for his children—maybe he would realize, then, that his job is really a cinch compared with mother's. Father puts in a few hours a day at his job, then lays aside work to go home to change, rest, play or recreation. Mother works every minute, day and night, you might say, with no change, no rest, precious little play or recreation. But mother makes her work harder than need be, either for her own good or for the good of her children. My dad hopes every kid that reads this will cut out this chapter and put it away for a rainy day. Then when the rainy day arrives, and mother hesitates to let a feller go barefoot for fear he may get his feet wet and take some dangerous cold-cure, let the thrifty boy produce this carefully preserved clipping. My dad is not only a father, but a doctor and a health specialist. He assures all boys, yes, and all children, too, that it is always healthful to go barefoot, rain or shine, hot or cold, if a feller wants to. Dad assures all mothers, yes, and all fathers, too, if there are still any fathers so terribly timid as to be unreasonable about it, that it is always healthful for boys or girls to go swimming, hot or cold, rain or shine, once or three times a day, if the boys or children want to go in, and enjoy themselves. So there are two great problems solved in two small paragraphs. Mother need not give herself one moment of anxiety about such matters, so far as the health question may be concerned. Father may spare himself that torture which hurts him so much worse than it hurts his boys—the thrashing he administers to his own boy for doing what he himself did so many, many times when he was a kid about two hundred and fifty years ago, so it seems. A father who would whip a boy for going in swimming once or any number of times a day, for any time of year, ought to be given some painful treatment to restore his lost memory. There are a thousand and one little things that are as straws individually yet in the aggregate a heavy load on mother's shoulders if she falls into the habit of constantly and, sooner or later, meaninglessly warning her children to "Be careful; don't do this; don't do that." Such unconsidered commands are inevitably disregarded and as inevitably unenforced, and the net result is a defiance of all parental discipline as something which has been found insupportable.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Like Edison's Test
1. What is the value of catnip tea as a remedy for babies and for invalids? Is it injurious? 2. What is hardening of the arteries? 3. Is diabetes curable? Where would you advise one to seek relief from diabetes? 4. What is meant by high blood pressure? Low blood pressure? (T. H. W.)
ANSWER.—1. Catnip has the reputation of being an antispasmodic, wherefore it has been given infants charged with having colic. Nine times out of ten the charge is untrue; and in the tenth time the catnip seems to have little if any effect save to make the baby cry all the harder. Catnip has been so long a favorite of the granannies that it would be cruel now to say it is injurious. 2. Arteriosclerosis is a disease of the arteries, one feature of which is gradual loss of the natural softness of the arterial walls and an increasing rigidity or brittleness of the walls. 3. Diabetes is often curable and nearly always amenable to intelligent treatment. There is not diet which can be deemed suitable for all cases. 4. The blood is driven through the arteries under more or less constant pressure, just as the water is driven through the municipal water system. When this pressure is found on measurement to be greater than required in health, that is high blood pressure.

Temporary Permanency
I very foolishly tried the "permanent wave." The permanency of the wave proved temporarily and my hair immediately began to come out by handfuls. Can you advise any remedy to save my hair? (E. M. F.)
ANSWER.—It is always injurious to the hair of men or women to have heat applied in any form (heat produced by electrical apparatus is the same in effect). Men's hair is injured by the ill-advised "singeing." There is nothing I can suggest except proper care of the hair.
The Old Pores
I am a girl 19 and lately my skin is becoming very dry and scaly. I have tried cold cream nights, but the cream seems to relieve it for only a day or so and also it opens the pores. (C. E.)
ANSWER.—The fanciful idea that any cream or medicament or washing or bath either opens or closes the pores need never deter one who really knows anything about the anatomy and physiology of the skin. There are no pores, in that sense. Your skin requires oil. It may have been bathed too much, especially too much soap. Cold cream freshly made by your pharmacist after the formula in the U. S. Pharmacopoeia for "Ointment of Rose Water" is better than any other. This skin oil is praised by many women: Digest over a water bath for three hours four ounces of sesame oil with twenty grains of powdered benzoin and twelve drops of absolute alcohol. Then filter. A few drops of this oil may be applied to the skin once or twice a day.

A New Idea In Education
By Frederic J. Haskin
Washington, D. C.—A man has arisen in the Middle West with a new idea concerning the teaching of the exact science of engineering who is attracting the attention of educators all over the United States and in centers of learning abroad. He has no epoch-making method of supplying brains to dull students or dulling their minds with knowledge that will stick regardless of the students' capacity, but he has worked out a system whereby his school is turning out better graduate engineers. This man is A. A. Potter, Dean of Engineering at Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana. That the benefit of his system is appreciated by young men desirous of becoming engineers is shown by the enrollment in the Engineering School at Purdue. In the college year just closed there were 1,345 students, ranking the school third among institutions of its kind in the United States in point of numbers. Summed up, what Dean Potter is seeking and getting is to make competent professional men—not just graduates; to keep the student's interest at high pitch; to see that his time is spent where he can best excel. When a student takes up the engineering course at Purdue it is soon ascertained whether he knows how to study and memorize effectively. If he does not, it is the first thing he is taught. He is taught that he is not to learn any book, but to master information which that book contains. He is urged to visualize what is set forth, to pick out the essentials of a study and concentrate on them in order that they will be clear and practical to him always. After he has been at work for two or three months in his first year the engineering student has his character inventoried by five of his fellow students and two of his teachers. This record is kept up throughout his course, and affords an excellent estimate of any student almost at a glance. From seven reports and the student's own estimate of himself his record is made up and kept.

Inventory of Character.
These cards cover the student's natural aptitude and mental characteristics; his application; his general attitude, whether self-reliant, opinionated, quarrelsome, aggressive, conciliatory, timid or self-controlled; cooperative ability, courtesy; disposition, whether gloomy or good-natured; efficiency; habits of work, whether punctual, resourceful, rapid or slow, and the like; his judgment; qualities of leadership; mental caliber; general outlook on life; sense of responsibility; tact. On the same cards, under the heading of "Record and Social Characteristic," the two teachers and five students record whether the student being described has an ingratiating address, or whether it is cautious, direct and brusque, or irritating, and whether he leaves a good or poor impression; whether his character is yielding, weak, firm, strong, obstinate, or positively moral; whether he is conscientious, tricky, honorable, reliable, or unreliable; whether his manner is trustful, guarded, suspicious, jealous, or envious; and whether the student is popular or not. Also recorded. This covers the countenance, whether pleasant, serious, open, strong, secretive, or weak; his habit of dress, whether showy, stylish, tasteful, ill-chosen, neat, or careless; whether he has any deformity; his carriage, whether erect and dignified or round-shouldered and slouchy; and his general health, covering his vision, hearing, endurance, vitality, physique and nervous stability. In addition, this consensus of observation of the student covers his use of English in speaking and writing, and whether his handwriting is firm, business-like, legible, illegible or careless.

From the data collected, Dean Potter is able to advise the student as to his future course, encouraging him if he is on the right road, or telling him if his path is badly chosen. probably at the Imperial Court, since he received a government salary. WRONG LICENSE ON CAR: YOUTH ARRESTED

J. P. Ritchie Held in Jail While Police Investigate His Record.

Suspected of having on his automobile a license plate alleged to be owned by Bert Cook, Montfort, and shown by state records to be issued to Mr. Cook, J. P. Ritchie, a farmland worker near Appleton, was arrested Saturday by the police. He will be retained in jail until the matter is investigated fully.

Ritchie had the license plate attached to a Ford automobile. The machine was in possession of John Mack, a companion, but Chief George T. Prim found that Ritchie had purchased it from A. R. Manley, Montfort. Mack therefore was released after being questioned.

The automobile had been seen on the streets carrying only one license plate and Chief Prim became suspicious. He obtained the number and then got in touch with Mr. Cook, who says the license plate and its holder were broken off his car and stolen. A visit was made to the farm where Ritchie was employed and he was placed under arrest. Ritchie alleges he found the plate.

An examination of Ritchie's effects revealed that he had been tried with three others last January in Wexahatche, Texas for burglary in the night time. He was defended by H. E. G. Kemp Bosobel, law partner of Gov. J. J. Blaine. This was alleged to be the man's first offense and he therefore was given a 2-year sentence and the court suspended it during good behavior. Chief Prim communicated with Judge F. L. Hawkins, of the Texas court of appeals, asking whether Ritchie should be turned over to him. If he is left here he will be charged either with having stolen property in his possession or driving an automobile without a license.

FREEDOM SCHOOL FIGHT CAUSES BITTER FEELING

A general mix-up that had its origin in the Freedom school imbroglio was prevented at St. Nicholas church at Freedom at the close of high mass Sunday morning by the timely appearance of the Rev. F. Peeters who took a hand in the affair. The feud which dates back nearly 50 years and was threatened out in the courts of Outagamie-co. and in Madison and finally settled in a Janesville court, has broken out afresh and it is alleged will be further contested.

Expenses of the headquarters will be reduced from $1,458,000 to $725,000; and in the division $2,225,000 instead of more than $2,500,000.

With care of disabled soldiers and their families, the service in hospitals and among men now in service, the Red Cross has had a tremendous expense but the national organization hopes to lower the total during the coming year. War work that seemed only temporary has been made permanent.

TEACHERS MUST PROVE THEY HAVE CERTIFICATES

Under a new state law teachers who sign contracts outside of the county in which they hold certificates or who teach on a state certificate are required to file affidavits with the county or city superintendents of the place in which they teach, showing the grade of the certificate, its date of expiration and the name of the person who issued it.

This law was passed by the 1921 session of the legislature. Miss Florence Jenkins, county superintendent, brings it to the attention of teachers who enter or leave the county for the reason that school boards are forbidden to pay such teachers unless they have complied with the law.

COUNTY TEACHERS HELP PENSION FUND

Teachers of Outagamie co. contributed $1,683.43 toward the state teachers' retirement fund, according to the 1921 report of the county superintendent, which was submitted to the state department of education Friday.

This amount includes contributions from rural teachers only. Of the rural teachers in the county, three are not subject to the law, two paid 2 per cent of their salaries, and 127 paid 1 per cent of their salaries toward the fund.

Under the law, three classes of teachers are exempt. This includes those who taught outside of the city of Milwaukee during the winter and spring of 1910-11, those who made contracts to teach before June 12, 1911, and those who began teaching before Sept. 1, 1911. Teachers in these classes, however, had the chance to decide whether they desired to become subject to the law.

Mrs. Anton Ellenbecker, 476 Cherry-st., has returned home after a few days visit with her mother, Mrs. James P. Garvey, Freedom.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Griesbach left Saturday evening for Milwaukee, where they will visit relatives and friends for several days.

Health Talk No. 27
By Jas. A. Rolfe, D.C.

The Pennsylvania newspapers one day during the last legislative session of the Pennsylvania state assembly of lawmakers, carried the news of G. C. Pogue, of Philadelphia, who appeared to urge passage of a bill favorable to chiropractic.

There was a reason. Whereas he can now see, there was a time when Pogue was blind. Chiropractic spinal adjustments removed the cause of his blindness. Of course he wanted his state to recognize a science of health so simple and effective as it had proved in his case.

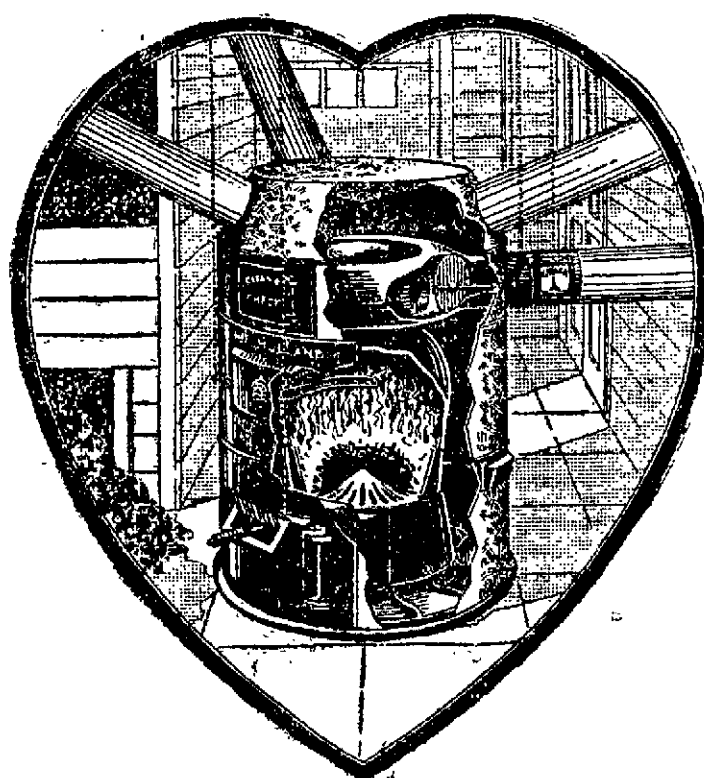

Chiropractic spinal adjustments not only are beneficial in eye ailments, but in other ailments of the head, throat, lungs, stomach, liver and intestinal organs. They remove the cause and Nature restores health.

WHY A HOLLAND FURNACE WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

Air from the ash-pit of the Holland Furnace is carried to the combustion chamber through the air-admitting fire-pot. This partially warmed air combines with gases turning them into valuable fuel. In the common furnace these gases either go into the chimney without being ignited or they burn so far from the radiating surfaces of the casting that the heat is largely lost.

The Holland Cone-shaped Grate keeps the hottest fire next to the fire-pot at all times and burns the fuel from the sides over the top. The common flat or bowl grate produces greatest heat at center where it is wasted.

In the Holland Furnace smoke is compelled to travel the full circuit of the big ONE PIECE radiator. In the common furnace heat is lost because the smoke travels only halfway around the radiator.

Do Pennies Block Your Dollar Vision?

POOR, cheap motor fuel would like nothing better than to have the trifling penny-saving of its gallon price held so close to your eye that you'd lose sight of the certain dollar-loss beyond.

What does it care about the poor running of your car, the permanent damage to your motor from the shocks of habitual missing and ragged explosions, to say nothing of your oil being thinned and impoverished by the deadly drip of kerosene?

Long-run economy demands bigger vision than can be shut off by deceptive, short-lived savings at the time of filling.

Keep your eye on the main chance—with the sound far-sightedness of keeping your car always smooth-running—free from the destructive battering of constant misses, and unharmed by trust in worn-out lubricating oil that is treacherously kept to level by unknown additions of kerosene.

OSHKOSH SLUGS OUT 5 TO 2 WIN OVER BRANDTS

SCHULTZ'S ERRORS HELP OSHKOSH WIN IMPORTANT BATTLE

Stevenson is Hit Hard But Is Steady in Pinches—Many Long Clouts.

Oshkosh increased her lead in the Fox River Valley league by defeating Appleton, 5 to 2, before a fair sized crowd at Oshkosh Sunday afternoon. Schultz lost his own game, responsible for some of the runs and he was without a hit. Schultz had a bad day all around. He struck out three times in succession—once with a man on third base—made two bad throws to first and was charged with one wild pitch, the latter ship costing an un. Oshkosh gained 1 safe swats, four of them foretrot bases, while the Brandts hit safely 9 times, getting three 3-base clouts, but only two of the longhairs turned into runs.

Schultz was in of water much of the time, but managed to catch him self out of several bad holes. He did not walk a man but was obliged to be constantly in hot water with the batter, wasting too many balls. He struck out six men while Stevenson whiffed seven. Stevenson also was in trouble much of the time, but he was steadier in the pinches. Appleton had a half dozen chances to score but the big Oshkosh hurler would tighten up and the chances went flinching.

Start Out Strong.
The Brandts scored in the first inning after two were out on two successive hits. After Spies and Beyer hit for three bases and Short drove home with a single Durain whiffed for the third out.

Oshkosh scored twice in the initial frame on two hits and an error. Sanders reached first on a scratch hit to Woods, who was unable to field it in time. Schultz threw wild to the first sack to catch Sanders sleeping and the runner went around to third. The next two men struck out, but Jarvis rapped a two base clout, scoring Sanders, and then stole third from where he scored on a passed ball. Kejawa fled out to Mudloff to end the inning.

Appleton had another chance to score in the fourth. Durain got a life on Boettke's error, but was unable to reach first. The next three men, however, were easy out.

Oshkosh Scores Again.
Oshkosh scored another run in the fourth inning on two hits. Jarvis started by doubling and was sacrificed to third by Kejawa. Smith hit to center for a single, scoring Jarvis but was caught on second in an attempted steal. Lambrecht fled out. Schultz was in trouble in the fifth but was saved by a circus catch by Durain in center field. After two were out Sanders hit to center for three bases and Nelson, who had struck out, walked a long fly to the same territory, which Durain copped after a terrific sprint.

Things looked pretty squally in the sixth for Schultz when Brandt and Jarvis hit in succession. Brandt singled over third base and went to second on a passed ball. Jarvis' single through Spies was grabbed by Durain who held Brandt at third. Schultz tightened up with two men on bases and caused Kejawa to go out on a tall foul; Smith to strike out and Lambrecht to roll out to Spies.

Perfect throwing to the plate cut off a run for Oshkosh in the seventh inning. Boettke started by singling and then tried to go the rest of the way around on Stevenson's double over Durain's head. The centerfielder, however, made a perfect recovery of the ball, shot it to Spies who relayed it to the plate in time to catch Boettke as he slid into the plate. The next two men were easy out.

Brandts Thrown Out.
Appleton threatened in the eighth but couldn't get over. Schultz started by striking out and then Spies beat another bunt along the third base line. He went to second on Beyer's single to center but both men fanned and Short skied out to Boettke.

Oshkosh scored two more runs in the eighth frame on hits, an error and a wild pitch. Brandt opened the fireworks with a single through Spies. Jarvis attempted to sacrifice but Schultz threw wild to first and all hands were safe. Brandt going to third and Jarvis stopping on second. A wild pitch, while Kejawa was batting, let Brandt score and sent Jarvis to third. Kejawa singled, scoring Jarvis. Smith sacrificed Kejawa to second, but the runner overran the bag and was tagged out on a quick play. Wood to Spies. Lambrecht followed with a single which was wasted as the next man rolled out.

Appleton staged a miniature rally in the ninth which netted one run. Durain opened with a three base drive to center and scored on Murphy's hard knock between first and second. Priebe fouled out to Sanders; Wood rolled out to Nelson and Schultz grounded out to Stevenson while Murphy, on first base, begged for a hit which would keep up the rally.

Speaker Coaches Another "Come-Back"

History threatens to repeat itself on the Cleveland ball team.
In 1919 the Indians obtained Ray Caldwell at the waiver price.
Ray, a spitball pitcher, was figured to be through.

But Speaker, manager of the Indians, had a hunch.

He figured that Caldwell, with proper handling, could still be made to pitch the brand of ball that had raved him among the top notch hurlers of the American League.

And Speaker's hunch was right.
Last year Ray won twenty games, and was instrumental in bringing to Cleveland its first pennant.

Had Another Hunch.

With his pitching staff going from bad to worse, Speaker has had another hunch.

He has claimed Allan Sotheron, spit ball pitcher of the Browns, by way of the waiver route.

Two years ago, Sotheron stood fifth from the top among the hurlers of the American League.

Last year he stood twelfth from the bottom.

This year his showing has been so bad that Lee Fohl, manager of the Browns, asked for waivers. The Red Sox claimed him, but returned him with thanks after he had lost two starts.

Then Cleveland claimed him.
Speaker's hunch has method at that.

Lost His Confidence.
Sotheron's downfall dates back to the start of the 1920 season when, owing to the new ruling on the spit ball, limiting it to two hurlers on a club, Allan was deprived of his mainstay.

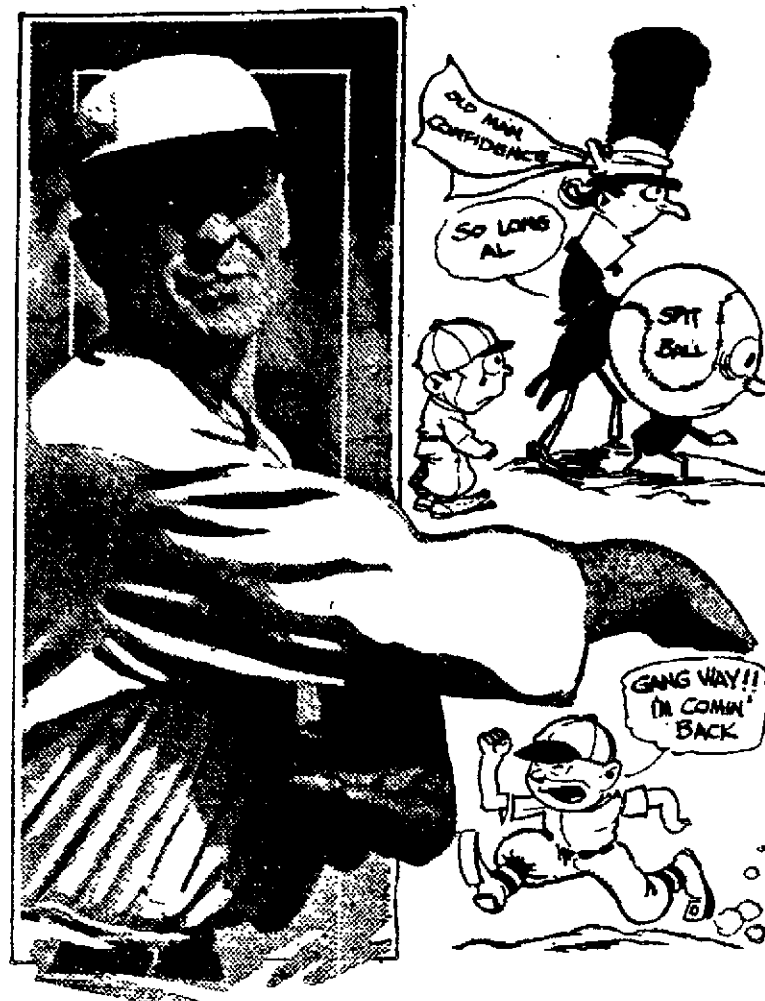

After losing his first two starts, the Browns hastily had him reinstated as a spit baller, but the damage had been done.

Sotheron couldn't seem to get started winning. Partly it was his mental attitude.

When his spit ball was taken away from him, his confidence went with it. And even with the restoration of the spitball, his confidence did not return.

Then, too, while endeavoring to acquire other deliveries to take the place of the spit ball, he had taken on mannerisms which signaled his every pitch to the third base coach of the opposing team.

Sotheron became a mark to batters.

Allan Sotheron

But Speaker figures that he can restore his confidence, and correct his pitching faults.

And if he can, look for Sotheron to repeat the come-back of Ray Caldwell. He already has a flying start, having won his first getaway with the Indians, against Chicago.

DIAMOND DUST

A section of the grandstand at Oshkosh was reserved for the Appleton fans who were out in large numbers. Nearly 300 local fans and fanettes saw the game.

Schultz is in bad with the Oshkosh fans and he knows it. He was "kidded" all during the game and he showed traces of temper when the play went against him.

Durain's catch of Nelson's fly to center was a corker. He speared the ball high over his head after a long run. It was a hard hit ball.

Stevenson's two base hit in the seventh inning was a fluke. He apparently attempted to bunt the ball but swung just hard enough to send it over Durain's head but the centerfielder made a perfect recovery and peg to the diamond.

Sanders was knocked out in the seventh inning when Wood tagged him as he ran into first. Wood jammed the ball into Sanders' stomach and he was out for several minutes.

The enemy hit Schultz hard. He was given perfect support in the field but he whaled a long fly to the same territory, which Durain copped after a terrific sprint.

Beyer got a hit in the eighth inning when Lambrecht and Smith did an Alphonso and Gaston act on his high fly to short center, the ball dropping between the fielders while each waited for the other to take it.

Sport Views And News

Despite his duties of manager, this Speaker still continues to play wonderful baseball and the Indian chief now has taken the lead in the American league batting race. During the past week, he dethroned Harry Heilmann, the sensational swatsmith of the Detroit Tigers, as the premier stickler in Ben John's circuit. This is a big thing for Speaker, as he has made a lot of money for Dempsey and Jack would be foolish to jump the traces right now when there is a great chance to pile up a lot of dough on the stage and in moving pictures.

Well, Jack Johnson is out again and there is no getting away from the fact that the sport world is very much interested over what the big black intends to do. It is said that he has been flooded with offers to fight, and that he contemplates returning to the ring as soon as a bout can be scheduled. That's fine so far as it goes but the former "pride" of Leavenworth is going to bump into all sort of obstacles before he makes his reappearance in the fist game. Johnson is going to discover that a former convict is far from the attraction that a heavyweight champion is and that the color line among the heavyweight champion is more tightly drawn than ever before in boxing.

Jack Kearns has denied the reports that Dempsey and he have called it quits. There have been rumors during the past week that the champion has jumped from his manager's reins but Kearns claims there is nothing to it. He ought to know if anybody. The title holder's guardian has made a lot of enemies since the Willard fight at Toledo but nevertheless, he has made a lot of money for Dempsey and Jack would be foolish to jump the traces right now when there is a great chance to pile up a lot of dough on the stage and in moving pictures.

Appleton staged a miniature rally in the ninth which netted one run. Durain opened with a three base drive to center and scored on Murphy's hard knock between first and second. NORTHERN BOILERS WIN CLOSE GAME

Combined Locks Retains Lead in League by Shutting Out Woolen Mill Team.

A large crowd witnessed the double header at Brandt Park on Saturday, when the Northern Boiler Works defeated the Valley Iron Works, 3 to 2, and the Combined Locks Paper Co. continued its winning streak by defeating the Appleton Woolen-Machine Co., 7 to 0.

Niles of the Northern Boiler Works had 11 strike outs, while Craft of the Valley Iron Works had 9. Reider of the Valley Iron Works joined the home run club by knocking the ball over the score board in the sixth inning.

The Combined Locks team had one of the toughest games of the season in defeating Appleton Woolen-Machine Co. Both pitchers did effective work in pinches. Ewald Elias, of the Appleton Woolen Mills was the star of the game, accepting many difficult chances without an error. Combined Locks still leads the league with a perfect record.

The Fox River Paper Co. forfeited to the Interlakes Pulp and Paper Co. by not appearing.

Kimberly Clark continues to hold second place with the Interlakes Pulp and Paper Co. by defeating the Coated Paper Co. on the Kimberly Clark lot by a score of 11 to 2.

SLUGGING MATCH GOES TO KIMBERLY

Kimberly walloped New London 14 to 13, in a hitting bee before a large crowd at Kimberly Sunday afternoon. Logan, New London's pitching ace, was hammered out of the box in the seventh inning when Kimberly landed on him for a half dozen solid batters.

Kimberly started on the hill for Kimberly but he was pulled when New London began hitting him. He was given ragged support and was in trouble all of the time. M. Lamers then took up the burden and was hit rather hard but managed to keep the runs down.

New London started off strong, scoring nine runs in two innings. The visitors were in the lead, until the bloody seventh when Kimberly passed them and were never headed.

Green Bay—Dodge had the better of Van Dyke in a ten inning pitching battle here on Sunday, and a four run rally in the tenth session enabled the Red Sox to grab the long end of the 7-3 decision with Green Bay here on Sunday.

For a time in the ninth inning, it appeared as if the rejuvenated Green Bay team would win its second contest, but some fast fielding cut off a winning run after the tying marker had been scored.

Van Dyke was in hot water throughout due to his wildness. Kirby's backstopping featured. The Green Bay catcher nipped five of the enemy in the act of piffing bases.

SCRIBES DEFEAT BARBERS AT BRANDT PARK, 8 TO 1

The Post-Crescent baseball team decisively defeated the barbers, 8 to 1, at Brandt park Sunday morning. It was the second victory for the scribes over the shavers.

Sternard pitched a strong game for the newspaper crew, holding the barbers to a few scattered hits. Fredericks was hit rather hard and his support was none too good.

The Post-Crescent team is tuning up for a return game with the Green Bay Press-Gazette team, probably next Sunday. The Baymen won the first game at Green Bay a few weeks ago by a score of 3 to 2.

FORESTER TEAM MEETS TONIGHT TO REORGANIZE

The Catholic Order of Foresters baseball team will meet at Forester home Monday evening to reorganize the team for the remainder of the season. A new manager is to be elected and a new schedule will be drafted. The team has not been going any too good and the boys want to get a fresh start.

Steps will be taken to organize an athletic association at the regular meeting of the Foresters at their home Tuesday evening.

TRANSPORTATION OF FIGHT FILMS POSSIBLE

Washington—Provided state censorship boards approve it is possible that motion pictures of the Dempsey-Carpen tier fight may be shown in other states than New Jersey.

There is a federal law, passed some time after the Johnson-Jeffries bout, forbidding the interstate transportation of fight pictures.

While he ventured no opinion with regard to this law, Atty. Gen. Daugherty Friday indicated that if state boards approved and no protests

KIMBERLY PASSES MENASHA IN RACE

New London Defeat Leaves Appleton in Second Place. Oshkosh Going Strong.

HOW THEY STAND

SUNDAY SCORES

Oshkosh, 8; Appleton, 2.
Kimberly, 14; New London, 13.
Kaukauna, 4; Menasha, 2.

Kimberly's victory over New London Sunday afternoon left Appleton in second place in the Fox River Valley league and put Kimberly in fourth place, ahead of Menasha, which slipped down a peg as a result of the defeat at the hands of Kaukauna.

Oshkosh almost has the pennant clinched for this year. Appleton's only chance is to win all its remaining games and Oshkosh must lose at least two more. This is hardly probable inasmuch as Oshkosh is playing major league ball now. Stevenson is going great and is given wonderful support.

Kaukauna seems to be well fixed with her new pitcher. Reik hurried a great game against Menasha and was given good support. Kimberly is having trouble finding a pitcher and played a ragged game, but new. New London also is not going as well as it did at the start of the season.

Schultz will have to perk up or his connection with the Brandt club won't last much longer. He played a poor game at Oshkosh and failed to show a fighting heart. The team is liable to crack unless a change is made in the box.

NEW YORK'S PENNANT CHANCES ARE SLIPPING

New York—Manhattan's hopes, the Giants and the Yankees, will have to do some hustling if they are to get anything better than a runner up's out of the world's series money.

The season is just about half gone and as a result of wasted chances and opportunities the Giants and the Yankees are both three and one-half games behind the two league leaders with no immediate prospects of improving.

Following the miserable showing of the Tankees against the White Sox, New York has just about foreseen the American leaguers and is looking to the Giants to bring the series to the Polo grounds.

were received by department of justice, exhibitions of the pictures would not be interfered with.

WEST END MERCHANTS WIN FROM SHIOCTON

The West End Merchants won another baseball game Sunday at Shiocton, setting down the villagers by a score of 14 to 3. Heller pitched a good game but flashy, fielding back of him saved him several times.

Gosha was the hitting star of the game. His three base clout in the ninth inning scored two runs.

Zushlike and Heller staved off a rally in the ninth when Shiocton filled the bases with one out. Zushlike winged a long fly to center field and whipped it back to second in time to complete a double play, retiring the side. Kaufman worked behind the bat for the merchants.

KAUKAUNA WHIPS MENASHA'S TEAM

Electric City's New Pitcher Holds Menasha in the Hollow of His Hand.

Kaukauna won its second game of the season Sunday afternoon from Menasha by a score of 4 to 2. With Reik, the new pitcher from the Lake Shore league, the Electric City boys were able to do the trick. Krueger on second base and Mace of Oshkosh on short, also showed up well in their playing.

Kaukauna scored once in the second inning when Jansen hit for two bases and Johnson followed with another double, scoring Jansen. In the seventh frame the winners scored twice. Schmidt, Wittig and Thompson each clouted out a "double" and two men scored on the hits. The fourth score came in the eighth round.

Menasha scored her only two markers in the fourth inning by a desperate bunting of a few hits. After that they never threatened the plate. Reik, the new pitcher, had his opponents eating from his hands. Kaukauna is now satisfied that they have the best pitcher in the league and they feel they are started toward higher places.
